DAY 24 – DISCIPLES WHO MAKE DISCIPLES

📖 Scripture

John 15:16

“I chose you… that you should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should remain.”

🌱 Meditation

Jesus did not call us simply to follow Him; He called us to bear lasting fruit. True discipleship goes beyond personal growth. It involves helping others grow in Christ and become disciples themselves.

The cycle of discipleship continues when those who are taught become teachers, and those who are reached go on to reach others. God's desire is not just for us to grow, but to multiply.

We are called to make an impact that continues beyond us.

You are called to multiply, not maintain. Raise disciples who will raise others.

💭 Reflection

Am I intentionally helping others become mature disciples of Christ?

- Who am I currently discipling in their walk with Christ?
- Am I preparing others to disciple someone else?

🙏 Confession

I am chosen by Christ to bear lasting fruit. My life produces fruit that remains. I am committed to making disciples and helping others grow in their relationship with Jesus. Those I disciple will go on to disciple others. I multiply the life of Christ in others, and my impact continues through generations, in Jesus' name. Amen.

✍️ Personal Notes

1. What does it mean to bear fruit that remains?

---

2. How can I become more intentional about discipling others?

---

3. Who can I begin to disciple and help grow in Christ?

---

4. What can I do to ensure that those I disciple also become disciple-makers?
